

5 Reasons to list on DOS5

1

It's easy to get listed!

Getting onto DOS itself is pretty easy. Compared to frameworks such as NS2, the application process is a real breath of fresh air. Once listed, you'll have access to a number of public sector opportunities, and the real work starts!

You don't want to miss out on business

A lot of public sector solutions change hands through DOS. In fact, there has been over £1.84bn spent since its launch. So if you're not on it, you're missing out on a lot of potential business

You're selling to the public sector

If you are aiming for public sector business, then DOS5 is the right framework to be on. Making up a big part of the Digital Marketplace alongside G-Cloud, DOS is one of the main routes of procurement for government buyers.

It's SME friendly

Hurray! DOS provides another route to market for SMEs looking to support digital transformation in government. In fact, 34% of sales so far through the framework have been awarded to SMEs!

It's used by the wider public sector

The framework is mainly used by the Central Government, contributing to 89% of total spend. However, other sectors such as Health, Education, and Non-Profits use it, too!
